My dear little one,

It is time now to tell my people to put aside the past. Live in this moment and do not become anxious for the future. Many of my children have been preparing for future events, prophesized by my chosen prophets and mystics. Now is the time to prepare spiritually and wholeheartedly.

I am the Light and all will survive in this Light. People do not understand the immensity and healing power of My Light. My Light saves, heals, cures, and sustains you. It destroys the minions and enemies who seek to truly destroy and hurt you.

I want My people, who desire to be one with Me, to receive all that I have. Simply focus on the Love I have for each of you. When you feel the infusion of My grace in your heart, join Me and give back to Me the Love you have received. You can enter into My Love and be fused into My Kingdom of Light. My Kingdom will dwell within you. Everyone who desires can receive and live within My Kingdom. I will enlighten you and shower you with immeasurable graces and virtues for you to grow, utilize, and sustain you so that you can share and love others through My Love.

I am the Light. All I have is yours. I will divinize you through My Body and Blood. My Flesh makes you one with Me. As you give Me back My Love as I give it to you, My Love prevails so you can give it to others. You will begin to gain knowledge, grace, and virtues of justice.

God the Father spoke one Word. That Word was His Son, and in the silence of your heart can this Word be heard. Come. Receive My Light, My Love and live in My Kingdom now.

Come. It is time.

Peace.

Most Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary, Pray for Us!
